

JOB OPPORTUNITY – PRODUCT MANAGER

We are currently looking for a Product Manager to our head office outside of Copenhagen, Denmark. Do you have a great passion for product excellence combined with outstanding communication skills – you have a unique opportunity to be our new colleague. We are a dedicated team across borders, where cooperation is the keyword. You will be our coordinating force in a brand new project, which will take this industry to a brand new level. You will be reporting to our Creative Director.

ABOUT GARIA

Garia is a Danish company, which develops, produces and sells Golf and Utility Vehicles. The Vehicles are developed at our head office in Greve, Denmark. The vehicles are produced in Viborg, Denmark. The vehicles are sold all over the world.

MAIN TASKS AND RESPONSIBILITIES

For a new project, Garia is looking for a Product Manager to be the liaison between the market and our development department. The project has many internal and external stakeholders with very high expectations. With the input from external stakeholders, you shall be capable of steering the development of features that are wanted, feasible and marketable.

Expect 20-40 travel days per year.

PROFESSIONAL SKILLS

We expect you to have a business background with previous experience in sales, marketing, product management or similar.

- You have 5 years of experience in product management
- You can categorize and use input from external stakeholders to optimize the product
- You are able to manage and deliver to many stakeholders simultaneously
- You are fluent in both spoken and written English and Danish. Proficiency in German is advantageous

PERSONAL SKILLS

- You have an outgoing personality, team-oriented and have the ability to create strong relationships
- You are a self-starter and motivated by transforming technical and creative ideas to practical tasks
- You have a hands-on approach and used to work with deadlines

- You thrive in a developing organization where the pace is high and every day brings new and exciting challenges
- It is an advantage if you have interest in golf and cars

YOU WILL BE A PART OF

- An international working team with professional and passionate colleagues
- A company in growth, with new projects in the pipeline
- A working day dominated by variety, challenges and responsibilities

APPLICATION

Please send your application, resume and references as soon as possible to career@garia.com – in subject line please write “Application: Product Manager. Applications are reviewed continually, with employment as soon as the right candidate is found.

CONTACT

If you have any questions about this job you are welcome to contact our CEO Jakob V. Holstein on phone +45 46 570 580 or by mail jvh@garia.com